HOME ON PRETEXT OF JOB AND MURDERED

SHREVEPORT, La., Apr. 16.—(P)—Sheriff T. R. Hughes of Caddo parish, in a telephone message from Tallulah to Chief Deputy Sheriff Cecil Marshall here about noon today, expressed confidence that the slayer of Miss Mae Griggin, 15-year-old Shreveport school girl, would be arrested within a few hours.

Sheriff Hughes telephoned that the search for the man known by the name of "Jackson," who lured the Griggin girl from her home last Thursday on pretext of working for his sick wife, was centering in that locality where he was said to have relatives and to whose people he was believed to be heading.

"Jackson," Sheriff Hughes said, was trailed to Tallulah.

Discovery of the knife with which the girl was slain was a development. The knife was found in bloody leaves near where the body was found yesterday in a wooded section about two miles from the girl's home.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 16.—(P)—Police sought "pleasing" man of about 50 years of age, 5'9" tall, for the slaying of Mae Griggin, 15.

The girl's body was found in a woods near an exclusive section of West Shreveport, her throat slashed and her flowered yellow dress partly torn away. Dr. Willis Butler, coroner, said there was evidence that the girl had been attacked criminally. He said she had been dead two or three days.

Lower Market

CHICAGO, April 16.—(P)—Selling down of grain prices today quickly followed Speaker Rainey's announcement in Washington that the president was opposed to any silver legislation during the present session of congress. The downturns were at the maximum permitted in a single day's session, five cents for wheat, four for corn and three for oats.

Bus-Truck Crash
Fatal For Six

ELYRIA, O., April 16.—(P)—Sheriff Clarence W. Dick of Lorain county announced today he would prefer manslaughter charges against William Daniels, and Andrew Schaffer, bus and truck driver, respectively, who figured in a crash which killed six persons near here.

The crumpled chassis of a night bus told the tragic story of the crash last night in which one woman was fatally hurt and five others received minor injuries.

The dead: JOHN SERBON, 35, Holiday Cove, W. Va.; EARL KELLOGG, 35, Lansing, Mich.; SAM NOVAK, DeQuette, Pa.; FLOYD STALNAKER, Akron, Ohio; CHRISTO VASIOLOVICH, 40, Massillon, Ohio; MICHAEL FRYDRYCH, 29, NEW YORK CITY.

All were passengers of the bus. A blood transfusion was resorted to in an attempt to save the life of Mrs. Marie Kaser of Huntington Park, Cal., whose skull was fractured.

DRIFTING HELPLESS TO DOOM

While doctors ponder and ponder, and painstaking scientists toil, Loretta Sitkowski (left) and Genevieve Liss slowly drift toward doom. They are afflicted with malady for which science, for all its heroic labors, knows no cure. Loretta, 6, suffers from lymphatic leukemia, a disease of the bone marrow and spleen which causes an abnormal supply of white corpuscles and a diminished number of red corpuscles. Genevieve, 14, has scleroderma with calcinosis, a condition in which abnormal amounts of calcium are deposited in the tissues, due to malfunction of the parathyroid glands. Dr. Karl Meyer, medical head of the Cook County Hospital in Chicago, brought the two together. Loretta and Genevieve looked at each other, understood, smiled, were friends on the dark current bearing them to the same port.

TWINS REPORTED

OF OSSIFICATIONPHILADELPHIA GIRLS BE-LIEVED DEVELOPING INCUR-ABLE MALADY NOW

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—(P)—The dread ossification malady, which lays hold of its victims by gradually turning their muscles to stone-like hardness, was said by physicians today to have struck little Katherine and Margaret McGuire, 11-year-old twin sisters.

Already the girls have developed a marked rigidity in their neck and shoulder muscles, and their arms are stiffening.

No cure has been developed for the malady, which is caused by improper deposits of calcium by the blood stream. Medical men explain that if it reaches a vital spot, the victim dies.

Peter Maguire, father of the girls, however, insists his daughters are not victims of the disease. Despite diagnosis of physicians, he maintains their trouble is arthritis.

When physicians examined Katherine McGuire in 1931—at the time she first showed symptoms of muscular stiffness, they too, were inclined to the belief she suffered from arthritis. But, knowing arthritis did not strike victims so young, they probed further.

A few days ago, Margaret, 10, showed signs of the same trouble. Hospital physicians and the family doctor, agreed on the belief she also is a victim of the disease.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT LETS
CONGRESS KNOW JUST WHAT HE WANTS IT TO DO, THEN QUIT

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt has let congress know in a series of week-end conferences just what he wants it to do, what not to do, and when to go home.

He told congressional leaders over Sunday, among other things, that he shortly would hand them a new request for one and a half billion dollars for relief purposes.

He told them he wants a stock market regulation measure with teeth, and not the kind of teeth the much modified Fletcher-Rayburn measure now carries.

He indicated his willingness to sidetrack, if necessary, some of the less important items of the administration program in order to obtain adjournment by mid-May, but that there would be no sidetracking of those things he regards as vital to his program.

Listed in the imperative class are: Reciprocal tariff, general revenue, municipal bankruptcy, federal insurance on bank deposits, and relief measures.

The $1,500,000,000 relief bill, which was forecast in the President's budget message in January, will include several provisions, namely a housing program and $500,000,000 for a public works program to aid employment. The relief will be made a part of the usual deficiency measure.

The chief executive was described by house members as

OF LAWMAKERS

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—Acquainted with President Roosevelt's favor of stricter stock market legislation and disfavor for more silver enactments, democratic congressional leadership attempted today to get up speed toward adjournment.

Speaker Rainey informed newsmen that Mr. Roosevelt doubted the "feasibility of going ahead with silver legislation now." A disappointed senator, who stipulated against use of his name, spoke of attempts to get congress to act for the metal over a veto.

It was also Rainey who said the President wanted definite marginal limitations in the market regulation bill. Such sections have been modified drastically in committee.

Those facts colored the start of a day that was full despite recess of the senate, and house business being limited to a "unanimous consent" basis.

The White House calling list was headed by the Haitian president, Stenio Vincent, for discussion of affairs in his country.

Meanwhile the senate finance

IN MARKET BILL

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—A senate banking sub-committee threatened up on the marginal provision of the stock market control bill today and indicated it would strengthen the section relating to trading by specialists.

Earlier, house leaders had indicated that President Roosevelt wants definite marginal requirements in the legislation.

Making a final revision of the bill before reporting it back to the full committee, possibly tomorrow, the sub-committee voted to place existing accounts under marginal restrictions June 30, 1936, instead of exempting them until Jan. 31, 1939.

Chairman Fletcher indicated the sub-committee also would revise the section dealing with specialists, saying it was "too liberal" in its present form.

"We will probably prohibit specialists from dealing in stocks in which they are specialists," Fletcher told newspapermen.

The committee chairman explained the exemption to January 1939, on margin requirements had been placed in the bill to meet protests that sudden restrictions would "force liquidation and default."

"But everybody agreed that was too long," he added.

Impetus to tighten up on the specialists was given the committee by Samuel Untermyer, veteran New York critic of the exchange, in a letter to Fletcher.

Untermyer urged that specialists be forbidden to deal in stocks they handle, contending that under present rules they have the

COUPLE OF NEGROESAUTHORITIES READY FOR

BLACKS FROM JAIL

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 16.—(P)—The entire police force and fire department of this city stood ready to repel any possible mob action against George Williams, 20, a negro, jailed for questioning in connection with a beating administered by two negroes early Sunday to Miss Georgia Lindley, 22, of Longview, Texas, and her escort, James L. O'Brien, 19, of Colorado Springs, both students at Colorado College.

"We're ready for anything that can happen," said Police Inspector I. B. Bruce. "We don't want any mob violence, but we're prepared for it."

Shortly after midnight last night, about 300 persons, mostly college students, according to Bruce gathered in the negro residential section and hung and burned a fire in the night.

C. B. Hersey, dean of the men and acting president of Colorado College, called a meeting of the student body and addressed the undergraduates, as did Chief of Police Hugh Harper, warning them against any acts of violence.

Punishment was promised students found to be involved in any disturbances.

Inspector Bruce said two other negroes who had been taken into custody for questioning, were released after they had cleared themselves.

Bruce said doctors who examined Miss Lindley had reported that she had not been criminally attacked. She was still in a hospital suffering from the beating.

O'Brien was released after he was treated.

Bloodhounds used in an attempt to trail the attackers of the students were thwarted. Inspector Bruce said, when the trail followed an old highway.

Bruce said Williams was held in solitary confinement, under heavy guard.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 16.—(P)—Scrapings from the nails of a Colorado co-ed were held today by police as a clue to two negroes who beat and robbed the girl and her escort here early yesterday.

The girl, 22-year-old Georgia Charles Lindley of Longview, Tex., and her escort, Jas. L. O'Brien, 19, of Colorado Springs, fought with the men until they fell exhausted. The pair fled, police were told after robbing O'Brien of $4.

Miss Lindley and O'Brien, returning from a dance, were accosted in front of the girl's home.

ARRESTED IN SERIES OF RAIDS
IN DALLAS ON MONDAY MORNING

DALLAS, April 16.—(P)—Officers hunting for the notorious Barrow gang of outlaws today had under arrest six men, suspected of being aides of the fugitive desperadoes.

In their search for clues that might lead them to Clyde Barrow, Raymond Hamilton and Bonnie Parker, officers apparently were rounding up every suspected associate of the dangerous criminals. Barrow is wanted for various killings and robberies. Hamilton, an escaped Texas convict, has bank robbery charges pending against him. The Parker woman has been with Barrow in frequent clashes with the law.

Four men believed to be associates of the gang were arrested here today, two of these men were taken by Frank J. Blake, department of justice agent, and Deputy Sheriff Ed Caster, to the federal building for more questioning. The other two remained in the county jail but officers indicated they would be grilled later.

The four men arrested here, said Sheriff R. A. Schmidt, have been definitely connected as aides of Barrow and Hamilton. At the house of one of them, officers said they found two Browning army automatic rifles which Barrow and Hamilton allegedly stole from a government armory at BARBIZON, France, April 16.—(P)—Leon Trotsky, toiling behind heavy locks and barbed-wire with two guns in easy reach and police dogs menacing passersby, was revealed today as the sponsor of a "Fourth International" whose guiding principle is permanent revolution.

The exiled Russian revolutionist was discovered yesterday whengendarmes, expecting to find spies, counterfeiters, Stavisky gangsters or gun smugglers, raided his villa on the edge of the forest of Fontainebleau.

Trotsky said he hid himself behind the high wire fence with its two locked gates because of renewed threats on his life. He suspects white Russians. As a result of the threats, Trotsky was

Sharp Decline in
Net of California

NEW YORK, April 16.—(P)—A sharp decline in net profits for 1933 is reported by the Standard Oil Co. of California.

The company disclosed a net of $7,560,000 for the year after an allowance of $17,433,177.

Depreciation, depletion, amortization and provision for contingencies including taxes, equivalent to 58 cents a share. This is comparable with a net profit of $14,014,392, or $1.07 a share in 1932. The total allowance amounted to $17,342,000.

The balance sheet of the company, as of Dec. 31, showed current assets of $92,108,200 and current liabilities of $6,819,910, compared with $89,206,574 and $4,944,590, respectively, at the close of the previous year. Cash and marketable securities totaled $22,579,397, an increase of $8,321,337 for the year.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—Evidence that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., offered to have a contribution "concealed" during his 1928 campaign against the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith was given today in the trial of the Southern Methodist churchman.

Earlier, Justice Peyton Gordon in District of Columbia supreme court overruled a defense objection to mention of Bishop Cannon's prohibition view. The defense insisted that might prejudice the jury.

A letter purporting to have been written by Cannon to William C. Gregg of Hackensack, N. J., said if he wished to have a $500 contribution "concealed" it could be utilized in the literary fund of the board of temperance and social service of the Methodist-Episcopal Church, South.

The letter pointed out that contributions made directly to anti-Smith organization had to be reported to the clerk of the house of representatives.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, April 16.—(P)—Death estimates mounted today with reports of a major engagement that may prove the turning point in the long Gran Chaco warfare between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Reports of the casualties continued. At La Paz, capital of Bolivia, army leaders said Chaco advances indicated Paraguayan losses at 1500 men. They added that a Paraguayan regiment had been surrounded with enormous losses.

Paraguayan military authorities in Asuncion, however, denied a regiment had been surrounded, as reported, in the Cochitica-Picomayo sector. They added that figures show four Bolivians have died to each Paraguayan killed in the border war.

Force fighting developed several days ago when Paraguayan forces moved from three angles upon Fort Boliviano, on the shore of the Picomayo river. This is Bolivia's most southerly outpost.

PLAN DESTRUCTION MILLIONS

AS HUMAN CONSUMPTION GOESBy ANDRUE HERDING
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

ROME, April 16.—(P)—Tens of millions of bushels of wheat are to be removed from the possibility of human consumption through a process of denaturation, it plans discussed today before the world advisory wheat commission are ratified by the governments here represented.

Under the chairmanship of American Minister John MacMillan, the commission discussed arguments for and against denaturation, and technical means of achieving it. Denaturation means a chemical treatment of wheat so as to make it unfit for human consumption but still very palatable to cattle and pigs.

Denaturation, it is said, would materially reduce world stocks of grain and thus permit the reaching of a firmer market, with higher prices for the farmer. It is the tremendous existing stocks of wheat which depress prices so heavily.

It seems to be the intention of the commission to recommend to the governments of the United States, Argentina, Canada and Australia, the overseas exporting countries; the Danubian exporting states; and the importing nations such as England, France, Germany and Italy, to divide wheat into two classes, reserving the high grade for human consumption and consigning the low grade

SALES FOR TAXES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Apr. 16.—(P)—National guardsmen, waving the "protect our homes" order of Governor William H. Murray, moved without resistance on 11 fronts in Oklahoma today, either stopping resales of tax delinquent property or finding their work already performed for them.

In seven of the 11 counties where "Alfalfa Bill" had dispatched his much-used militia with orders to see that no sales were held or resales officials who defied them, the auctions either had been called off or local authorities said they hadn't planned any.

Down at Walters, in Cotton county, County Treasurer Monroe H. Young had read the order of sale to a fair sized crowd when Capt. Jessie H. Mason, commanding three guardsmen, stepped up and took charge.

"So we just called it off," said Young. Asked if he was under arrest, he replied: "Not that I know of."

There was no disorder.

Both the four guardsmen and the county treasurer were surprised when the former walked in at 9 a. m. at Vinita, Craig county.

The treasurer if he attempts to hold a tax resale," said Lieut. S. A. Huffman, in charge.

"The joke is on you," chuckled Treasurer E. M. Landrum. "We are planning no sale. We've advertised none. We have had none since 1930."

Iowa Bank Loses

Pair of Bandits

STUART, Ia., April 16.—(P)—The First National, Stuart's only bank, was robbed of an estimated $2,000 by two young men, with a woman companion, today.

The two men, carrying revolvers, entered the bank about 9:10 a. m. They were extremely nervous, Miss Lucille Lyndon, bank employee.

One threatened the assistant cashier, H. C. Kronkitt, when informed the time lock on the vault was set. Miss Lyndon said. He convinced them, however, that the vault could not be opened. The two then scooped up available cash on the counters and fled in a black (Pontiac) sedan with a silver body stripe.

It bore an Iowa license.

One robber was described as light slender and dressed in grey suit and grey hat. The other, short and dark with black moustache, wore dark clothing.

The woman companion did not come into the bank and was not seen by employees. She was in the car, however, when it stopped for gas at a filling station.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(P)—American Telephone and Telegraph Co. today reported net income of $33,038,108 for the first quarter of 1934 compared with $32,353,187 in the corresponding period of last year.

One of the chief reasons for the statement to stockholders, said that during the recent quarter the Bell system had a net gain of 108,000 telephones. This compared with a net increase of 32,000 in the preceding quarter, and netting of 340,000 in the first three months of 1933. Each month since last August has shown a gain, he said.

Treating the system as a whole and including the Western Electric Co., said Mr. Giffords statement, "the earnings on American Telephone and Telegraph company stock were about $1.53 a share for the first quarter or at the annual rate of $6.12 per share, compared with $5.38 for the year 1933."

THREE SUPERIORS SENTENCED BECAUSE ENGINEER SUICIDES

YOUNG SOVIET TECHNICIAN
DRIVEN TO KILL SELF RE-SULT OF PARADE

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff
MOSCOW, April 16.—(P)—For humiliating a young engineer so greatly that he committed suicide, three of his superiors in a local factory today were sentenced by a Moscow court to various terms of enforced labor. Three others were discharged.

Testimony at the trial brought out how a 23-year-old technician named Lettin, as manager of the smelting department of a factory turning out tractor parts, suddenly was confronted with the necessity of reorganizing his work to conform with the introduction of new specifications for the parts.

He strove conscientiously to master the new details, but the percentage of waste from his department continued to mount in the form of defective parts.

Finally the factory workers, inspired by the heads of the factory and the communist party cell, organized a "carnival against waste." Taking part in the "carnival" several scores marched behind a band playing a funeral dirge.

They marched through Lettin's department bearing a large, black coffin on which rested Lettin's photograph. Painted on the coffin were the words: "We are burying the waste and the waste producers."

Lettin went home, slashed his throat with a razor and died.

The court gave the following sentences: Zolotukhin, secretary of the communist party committee of the factory, one year of labor at his present job at reduced pay; and the communist party has already expelled him from membership; Frolov, chairman of the factory committee, eight months at forced labor; Nakhov, trades union official, five months labor. Three others were summarily discharged.

BE CALM, CAMILLA, TO BE PRESENTED ON NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

An all-star cast of Corsicana dramatic talent is rehearsing nightly in preparation for the one performance of Clare Kummer's comedy drama "Be Calm, Camilla," which will be played by a Camp Fire Girls benefit performance Friday evening in the junior high school auditorium. The play was first scheduled for the high school auditorium but because of the junior high's better acoustics, lighting equipment and curtains and scenery it was decided to change the location.

Miss Mabel Bonner, one of Corsicana's best known and most popular teachers of expression, and directors, is directing the play. She has assembled the cast from a number of former Little Theatre players and will bring to the Corsicana stage several new finds, whose histrionic abilities are said to be equal to those of the more seasoned actors.

The leading male roles are taken by Edward P. Hamden, who played successfully in Little Theatre vehicles here, and who will be remembered for his good work in "The Show Off," "Aren't We All," and "Kemp." The other leading male role will be played by Roy Leeds, who is not a stranger to local stages. He played in "39 East," "The Whole Town's Talking," and "Be Calm, Camilla." "Be Calm, Camilla" was written by Clare Kummer especially for Walter Hamden, and that part is being taken by Mr. Hamden. Mr. Leeds is cast in the role written for and played by Arthur Shaw, and will be the comedy lead.

Reports of the progress that is being made at the rehearsals indicate that the Camp Fire Girls benefit play will be among the best local talent presentation ever given in Corsicana.

Politics at Random

THE widely-accepted supposition that President Roosevelt is accomplishing a "dictatorship" at Washington shows many signs of weakening as he begins his second year in office.

Some of the props to his greatly expanded presidential authority have been torn away by the irresistible force of opposition pressure. Others have been taken down through action by the administration itself. Still others appear to be crumbling from natural causes—the influence of a trade union which makes emergency powers no longer so popular as they were.

Of course Mr. Roosevelt retains, and probably will continue to retain, greater powers than any of his predecessors possessed in peace-time.

What has been happening recently to the concept of an "all-powerful" President, however, is worth summarizing.

Four "Dictator" Grants

JUST a year ago, congress was engaged in passing an extraordinary set of measures. They gave by executive branch such wide latitude of action that Mr. Roosevelt's enemies, and some of his friends, began to refer to his authority as "dictatorial."

Essentially, talk of a "dictatorship" revolved around four specific grants:

Power to curtail government expenditures arbitrarily; power to control industry through a system of licensing; power to manipulate the currency; power to undertake what many called a "regimentation" of agriculture.

What has become of these powers?

Compromises Forced

EVEN before the government expenditures "dictatorship" was established, congress forced a compromise limiting what the President could do about the exceptionally large item of veterans' allowances.

Since then congress has forced other veterans' compromises, and by passage of the current appropriations bill over a veto, finally has wiped out most of what Mr. Roosevelt did under the original grant.

The licensing authority over business not only never was used—ex-committee voted out the Jones-Costigan sugar control bill to be brought before the senate this week.

At capitol hearings, the administration-favored bill for grain exchange regulation was opposed by spokesmen for a farmer's grain dealers co-operative as "partially unwise and totally unnecessary."

On the legislative appropriations bill, agreement was reached through which representatives of the American government in foreign lands will not suffer from gold dollar devaluation.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—The senate resolution to amend the constitution to permit taxing securities now tax-exempt was approved today by the senate judiciary committee subject to a poll of absent members.

Grain Exchange Control.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—Enactment of legislation for federal regulation of grain exchange was advocated today before the house agricultural committee by L. J. Taber, master of the national grange, and Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

They testified on a bill by Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the committee.

Taber, saying he also was president of the National Council of Farmers and a member of the board of the Farmers National Grain corporation, denied the legislation was revolutionary and insisted it was only to amend the cept in one isolated instance—but it now is disclosed that when the power expires by statute in June, no request will be made for its renewal.

Thus the administration lays aside, in the face of much resistance, the biggest club it held over industry.

No Money-Printing

WITH respect to the currency, the President has exercised few of the powers given him, and has steadfastly turned his face against that sort of inflation which many feared might result.

He has said he never would use the congressional grant of authority to start the printing presses.

Some control has been attempted over agriculture, but there is a dispute how effective it has been.

Now that the next step—agricultural compulsion—is proposed, Secretary Wallace stands opposed to it, although he is willing to try with respect to cotton an experiment which he expects will fail.

Those who said the President never really desired a "dictatorship," and those who said he would fail if he tried to establish one, probably never will agree.

President Signs Bills.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt today signed the bill authorizing funds to carry on the federal power commission investigation of electric rate charges.

The President also approved the bill authorizing the government to employ Frank Nebeker, former assistant attorney general, as special counsel in the case against the Weirton Steel company.

Legislation was requested because Nebeker has represented firms having claims against the government.

The senator said he planned to arrange an immediate conference with the president on the question as it was believed wise to get the executive's viewpoint.

BULWINKLE RETRACTS CHARGES WIRT BEEN JAILED DURING WAR

MEMBER OF DINNER PARTY
QUOTED SAYS ACCOUNT
FANTASTIC AND UNFAIR

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(P)—In a speech to the house, Representative Bulwinkle (D-N. C.) today retracted and apologized for his previous statement that Dr. William A. Wirt, author of the "brain trust revolution" allegations, had been confined to jail during the war because of pro-German activities.

Meanwhile, Robert W. Bruere, a guest at the Virginia dinner at which Wirt has testified he obtained his views as to what he termed the "revolution," told reporters the Indiana educator's account of the party was "fantastic" and "unfair."

Bulwinkle is chairman of the special house committee that is investigating Wirt's statements. Tomorrow it will hear six persons who attended the dinner last September 1.

Bulwinkle quoted this remark which he made on the floor last week:

"He (Dr. Wirt) was not here to be investigated. If he had been I would have gone into his private character. If he had been, I would have brought out from him the fact that during the war, on account of his pro-German activities, he was confined to jail at Gary, Indiana."

"After a thorough investigation of the report, which came to me by what anyone would consider reliable sources, I am convinced that the report is not true, and therefore, as a man and a member of this house, after ascertaining that the report was untrue and unfounded, and in order that no injustice might be done to Dr. Wirt, it is my duty to correct such statements made by me on the floor of the house on April 11."

"And I therefore tender my apology to Dr. Wirt."

tices act by failing to report all of $85,300 received from Edwin C. Jameson in 1928 to oppose the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith.

Cannon was an active prohibitionist while Smith was opposed to federal prohibition.

John J. Wilson, government attorney, read into the record a letter from Cannon to Jameson, a New York insurance executive.

The latter referred to the 1928 presidential nominee as a "wet Tammany democrat."

Robert H. McNeill, chief of defense counsel, promptly objected.

"My point is," McNeill told the prosecutor, "that you are now reading Bishop Cannon's views on prohibition—it may be to prejudice the jury."

The judge permitted the testimony to go into the record.

Milady's Summer Chapeaux

Fashion goes to milady's head this season with a wide variety of styles, three examples of which are shown. postponed until tomorrow but District Judge Porter Newman subsequently issued a temporary restraining order to adjourn it until November 5, when it may proceed under the same notice and advertisement, and it was expected the guardsmen would withdraw.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 16.—(P)—Armed national guardsmen were on duty in Eleven Oklahoma county seats today with instructions from Governor William H. Murray to prevent "resales" of property for delinquent taxes and to arrest any county official who attempts to conduct a sale.

The crisis centered in Cotton, Elaine, Bryan, Garfield and in Craig counties.

Six other counties, however, already had called off the sales before the Governor's order was issued, either through injunction or failure of county officials to advertise sales. They were Major, Washington, Beaver, Stephens, Choctaw, and McCurtain counties.

In most counties, the military detachment consisted of an officer and three men. Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett said a greater number was not sent for economic reasons, but added that "more troops will be ready to go if necessary."

Lieut. Ross Routh, in command of the troops, said no guardsmen were assigned for duty in their home counties.

Governor Murray, in issuing the order late Saturday, declared that "protection for the homes of the people in stressful times like these is a vital policy transcending any temporary loss of taxes."

Girl Suffering From Hiccoughs Relieved Sunday

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 16.—(P)—The hiccoughs which have racked Dorothy Floyd, 18, for three months, have subsided.

Physicians were puzzled by the sudden cessation of the attack. The young woman still suffers periodic convulsions and has a throaty cough.

She has been bedfast since Jan. 14, and hiccoughed steadily until yesterday except for ten days of relief earlier in the month.

No special treatment had been given to break the long illness, but the hiccoughing ended shortly after the arrival of a specialist.

ORGANIZED LABOR THROWS SUPPORT TO LABOR BOARD

DETROIT, April 16.—(P)—Organized labor threw its support to the National Automobile Labor Board today, bringing a new promise of genuine peace to the motorcar industry.

At a meeting of labor leaders in Pontiac a plea was made to workers to exercise patience while the labor board studies its problems. The leaders, from seven Michigan cities, from Ohio and from Wisconsin, urged the board to act as all possible speed, out of consideration of the thousands of workers who are now awaiting board decisions.

William Collins, chief organizer of the American Federation of Labor in the automobile industry, sounded the keynote of patience. It was echoed in a telegram from William Green in which the president of the Federation asked workers to "keep their feet on the ground while the board is working out its problems."

A resolution was adopted expressing confidence in the board, in Richard L. Byrd, labor's representative on the board, and in President Green.

Approximately 500 persons attended the meeting, coming from Detroit, Pontiac, Lansing, Muskegon, Jackson, Flint and Saginaw, Mich., Cleveland, O., and Janesville, Wis.

PRICES AND DEBTS

The present trend of prices is upward. This is natural, and probably inevitable, with the rise of employment and wage scales. When people have more money they can pay more, and it is the nature of our business system to take what the traffic will bear. This rising price level is what the government, with business generally agreeing, aimed at in the first place, though latterly wages have been given most emphasis. The reason for this effort was the country's debt structure. We had a public and private debt amounting to more than $200,000,000,000. People had ceased to pay on the principal of long-term debts—especially mortgages—and were not paying much interest. It was evident that unless prices could be raised again somewhere near the level they had when most of the debt was incurred, the mortgages and bonds were not going to be much good. The vast debt structure might collapse. And since, in our capitalist system, debt is wealth looked at from the opposite direction, our wealth would vanish. There might have been the compromise of debt concessions, in the form of partial cancellation, lower interest rates and lower public utility rates. But banks, insurance companies and private creditors held out against that. It is said that higher income is useless when prices rise in the same proportion. This is literally true on the lowest income levels, where all income must go for the bare necessities of life. On higher levels, even if prices do keep even with rising income it is usually possible to squeeze more out for payment of debt and interest. A regular percentage of saving, obviously, means more dollars saved as the income and price levels rise together. But it is realized now that the best strategy is to hold prices back, and push wages and salaries. Only in this fashion can the debts be paid. Creditors who object to higher wages and salaries, or want to raise prices faster than wages and salaries, might as well say they don't want to collect.

TRADE NATIONALISM

In his report to the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler points out that there can be neither peace nor prosperity as long as nations refuse to co-operate for these purposes. "That economic nationalism," he says, "which is still running riot and which is the greatest obstacle to the re-establishment of prosperity and genuine peace, has been at its height during the last 12 months. If it now shows signs of growing weaker, it is because its huge cost is beginning to be understood. "The American cotton planter and wheat grower, the French farmer, the Italian, the German or the British manufacturer, to say nothing of the agriculturists and industrialists of Belgium, of Holland, of Scandinavia, of Poland, of Czechoslovakia, of Austria, of Hungary or of the Balkan states, cannot possibly find markets for their products or quick and adequate transportation thereto, without that international co-operation which will establish a stable international monetary standard and which will everywhere bring about a sharp reduction of BUSINESS AND BIGOTRY.

He didn't like a Catholic; he didn't like a Jew;
He didn't like a Spaniard or a Greek.
In private life, he told his wife, there were but very few to whom he thought it worth his while to speak.
He didn't like a Baptist or a Methodist at all.
And he wished he'd never met them any more.
He was satisfied to dwell in a circle very small.
But he talked a different language in his store.
Be kindly to the customer and satisfy his need.
It's the dollar we are after for the till.
Don't ever show a prejudice 'gainst color, caste or creed.
The wants of every caller we must fill.
Be courteous and helpful, clerks remember one and all;
Be obliging to the customer who spends.
This little business axiom every morning please recall:
It never pays to quarrel with our friends.
I have never known a merchant who would stop to ask the creed
Or the politics of one who came to buy.
Or would scorn to take a dollar from a man of different breed.
Or would give to him an insolent reply.
And I wonder why in private life the bigot doesn't see
In the few brief years on earth which he must spend,
That every man, no matter what his caste or creed may be,
Is usually worth having for a friend.

BABIES' SOCIAL LIFE.

We have always regarded infancy as the most assertive age. Babies, as a rule, make both their presence and their wants known. Some of us who have tried, on occasion, to suppress or placate a vociferous baby, would rather take on a trumpeting elephant or the state of Kansas. And yet here comes Dr. Knight Dunlap, professor of psychology at Johns-Hopkins University, and says babies are too much repressed and need a larger and freer social life. "After all," he declares, "grandmother and the Indians knew a great deal about babies. When a baby cried in grandmother's time, they figured something was wrong—and it was the same way with the Indians. There was something wrong, and they properly investigated." This doctrine flabbergasts a generation of mothers who have brought up their children on the principle, urged alike by doctors and psychologists, that any grand-mother getting within reaching or kissing distance of a baby should be spanked and sent home. Babies are to be left alone like carrots or cabbages, to vegetate. Their nerves needed quiet, their souls needed contemplation. Fussing would spoil their tempers and make them sick. When they hollered, it was a Bolshevik conspiracy to put something over. They were to be trained, and their characters formed in the crib, by wise isolation from a meddling world. And now Dr. Dunlap says the let-alone policy is even worse for babies than for business. Deliberate neglect is "richly productive of social maladjustments later." The baby, foiled in other forms of devility, may go psychopathic. So there will be only two ways to keep the babies from running roughshod over us again: (a) let the doctors and psychologists take care of them; (b) don't have any.

tariff barriers and the removal of restrictive administrative trade regulations." Fortunately this truth, for years ignored except by experts, is now coming into general recognition. Our government, too, is now disposed to act with others that are willing to stop their suicidal interference with world trade and disarmament measures. These are not only ways to insure peace and prosperity, but ways to stabilize them. "It is possible to control sleep, and to sleep for almost any period," says a champion sleeper. That's fine. What we want is to sleep through the next depression and the early stages of recovery. All things are relative, and the weather you whine about would make some other community boast. Those new sleeping planes ought to be comfortable. Air-cushioned, you know.

Same Old "Whither Are We Drifting" Stuff —By Clive Weed

WHY GOVERNMENT GROWS WEAK

Judge Florence E. Allen, appointed to the federal Circuit Court of Appeals only one step below the Supreme Court of the United States, enters her new office with these words: "Dillinger's escape and the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby occurred because our finest and best equipped men leave government to the least desirable class. If there are in office the kind of men, and also women, who cannot say no, who think that a public office is their private property, then these things will happen and will continue to happen. You cannot give criminals an inch. "We have built a magnificent framework of government, but it depends upon our best people, and upon lawyers everywhere, to make the law do what it is intended to do—accomplish substantial justice." Judge Allen seems here to be issuing a challenge especially to her own profession, both judges and lawyers. It is common knowledge that the latter, particularly, have drifted into a loose construction of their professional code which allows them to interfere with the law "doing what it is intended to do." When the law fails, in the case of arrested criminals, it is usually because some smart lawyer uses his knowledge of law and legal procedure to prevent "substantial justice."

The legal profession is far more responsible than the police authorities for the criminal lawlessness in this country. The biggest step toward controlling crime would be a revision of legal ethics and practices. Samuel Insull's autobiography, now in preparation, may not be great literature, but probably will have the merit of not involving the buyer in common stock, preferred stock, bonds or the first, second and third class, mergers, holding companies, investment trusts and receiverships. What we want, says Prof. Walter Rauterstrach of Columbia, is "that man shall live more abundantly." O. K. with us. Bring on the abundance, 130,000,000 portions of it. Railroads that have tried it say they are making more money with low fares than they did with high fares, but others won't believe it. Insull, with all his shrewdness, never guessed that when he reached Istanbul they'd talk Turkey to him.

HEALTH LOSSES AND GAINS.

The Milbank Memorial Fund and the United States Public Health Service have been studying the relations between poverty and sickness. The inquiry included 8,000 urban households all over the country. It found that illness among families hard hit by the depression is higher by one-half than among those who have escaped serious economic difficulties. The most serious harvest of illness is expected later on. Some authorities say this effect of the depression will be felt for a whole generation, unless steps are taken promptly to combat it. At the same time death rates, through the fourth year of the depression, were dropping, or at least not rising, a fact attributed in part to the widespread health work of the past decade. There were at the start more good health and more stamina to meet the difficult condition of the depression. It is true, also, that among the people whose curtailed incomes meant lopping off luxuries and extras rather than deprivation of any essential of life, the plainer living was beneficial. Society has a job ahead of it to reduce the amount of poverty and sickness which has developed because of real hardships suffered, and to promote good health by resumption as rapidly as possible of discontinued health service.

Another fine thing about that winter hide-out of Admiral Byrd's in the Antarctic—people won't be busting in every hour or two and telling him about a new scheme for making money. It's very nice to see Henry Ford preaching that the more a manufacturer lowers prices, the more money he'll make. Let him make as much as he likes. You might think people are more interested in movies than economics, but Father Coughlin gets several times as much mail as any film star. Really, is it respectful for Congress to probe Dr. William A. Wirt only $500 worth?

FORMER WEALTHY LAND OWNER DIES APPARENT POVERTY

FORT WORTH, April 13.—(AP)—The death of Dee Parr, 45, ended a four-year mystery concerning the whereabouts of the former well-to-do Kaufman County land owner. Parr for many years worked a large number of both white and colored laborers. He lived very much to himself. According to a sister, Mrs. Colby Reeves, wife of a physician at Winters, Parr's family had heard nothing of him for the last four years. The former land owner, reputed to have been worth $175,000 at one time, died in apparent poverty in city-county hospital here yesterday. He was found at the Salvation Army shelter after he was found camping beneath a railroad bridge, using newspapers for covering and eating out of tin cans what food he could beg. The body was sent to Henderson for burial. Survivors, besides Mrs. Reeves, are a sister, Mrs. Bertha Wade of Henderson, and a brother, Wyatt Parr, whose address is unknown.

ROBERT CAMPBELL GETS CONDITIONAL PARDON SATURDAY

AUSTIN, April 14.—(AP)—Four additional pardons and a general parole were granted Texas convicts today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. Conditional pardons were given Robert W. Campbell, convicted in Navarro county of burglary and assault with prohibited weapon; C. T. Cannon, Jones and Taylor counties; automobile theft and liquor law violation; Charlie Wren, Kendall county, murder; and Ed Griffin, Parker county, automobile theft. Smiley Chesshire, convicted in Panola county of liquor law violation was released on a general parole. A general parole granted Emma Wells, convicted of murder in Bexar county was revoked. The parole was issued November 8, 1933.

Robert W. Campbell entered pleas of guilty to indictments for burglary and assault with a prohibited weapon in the Thirteenth judicial district court, July 18, 1933, in connection with the burglarizing of the Jim Carroll store at Blooming Grove and the assaulting of George Smith, nightwatchman, Blooming Grove, June 19, 1933. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. A jury in the district court on May 16, 1933, gave Campbell a two-year suspended sentence for alleged attempted arson in connection with the alleged attempt to burn the Sun-Light Publishing company building, home of the Corsicana Daily Sun and Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light, during the fall of 1932. The attempt to burn the Sun-Light Publishing company building was unsuccessful. The two-year suspended sentence against Campbell has never been entered in the district court.

Alvin, now thirteen years of age, won in the city and then in the district contest in 1932-33-34. He is the first time in district No. 11 that an individual has won this honor three times. Alvin also enjoys the honor of having won each time by unanimous decision of the judges.

Angus Resident's Chicken House Was Raided Friday Night

Chicken thieves are reported to have raided the chicken house of J. L. Caffey in the Angus community Friday night about 9:30 o'clock and escaped with between 30 and 40 hens, a number of small chicks and several roosters. Only one rooster escaped the clutches of the thieves. The incident was reported to the sheriff's office Saturday morning.

NEGROES SUFFERING FROM TUBERCULOSIS MAY GET TREATMENT

Indigent negroes suffering from tuberculosis can be treated through the State of Texas funds for a limited time, according to a letter received this week by C. E. McWilliams, county judge, from J. E. McKnight, superintendent and medical director of the Texas Sanatorium at Carlsbad, Texas. Three per cent of the funds from the sale of the second series of Texas relief bonds was set aside for the purpose of aiding indigent tubercular patients. This is the first time indigent negroes suffering with tuberculosis have been provided with treatment, the county judge pointed out.

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries
by taking this advice!

Can constipation safely be relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know. You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can safely relieve this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:
First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord. Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, and perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna, a natural laxative; the dose can be measured, and the

A Frank Statement Concerning Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin
We believe the use of pills and tablets containing mineral drugs is rapidly giving way to gentle regulation of the bowels with a liquid laxative. We believe Dr. Caldwell's original prescription of fresh herbs, pure pepsin, and senna is the ideal family laxative. And we know it is a safe preparation for children and expectant mothers because it does not cause bowel strain or irritate the kidneys.

TWO MEN BOARDED BUS AT FT. WORTH; HOLDUP CAME LATER

AFTER ROBBING FIFTEEN PASSENGERS ESCAPE MADE WITH THIRD MAN IN AUTO

FORT WORTH, April 13. (P)—Two men in a flaring holdup early today robbed 15 passengers of a west-bound transcontinental bus of $500 in cash, their baggage and tickets on a lone-ly road near Weatherford and fled with a machine gun-armed companion from the secluded spot.

They boarded the bus at the western edge of Fort Worth and a short time later forced B. R. Wayne, driver of the bus, to take the machine south of the main highway on a side road to the place where the third man was waiting.

When I tell you, stop, and turn off the road, or I'll blow your brains out," he said. This threat was overheard by an El Paso woman who, with her baby, was sitting on the front seat in the bus. The robber stood for about three minutes and then the second man came from the back with drawn pistol. They ordered the driver to stop and took him to the rear. One of the robbers got into the driver's seat, but was unable to start the machine. Wayne was brought back to the front and ordered to turn off at the first side road.

With one man standing over him with drawn pistol, the driver was forced to go about a quarter of a mile south of the highway. The bus was then stopped and the robbers searched all of the passengers, taking their money and even their pocket knives and bus tickets.

The bus then was driven to a point a quarter of a mile farther, the robbers forcing Wayne to drive over the rough road to the place where the third man was waiting. The bus was then stopped and the robbers searched all of the passengers, taking their money and even their pocket knives and bus tickets.

Because the bridge had been wrecked, Wayne was forced to detour by way of Aledo. He drove to the town of Aledo and reported the robbery to Sheriff E. R. Barker, Deputy Sheriff R. J. Doggett and Policeman Jack Barnett.

It was impossible to estimate the loss. The robbers took everything of value. One man lost $210 and other $120. The remainder of the cash was in small denominations. Among the victims were Lee Roddell, of Milap, who lost $25; Ben Tillery, of Milap, who lost $13.

Police are holding an overcoat and a box containing women's wearing apparel, found on the road near the scene of the robbery. The box bore a Big Spring address.

While the robbers were searching the passengers a negro woman protested: "You got my gas receipt. You give it back. I'll have my money back."

But the robbers ignored her plea.

Victims Say Robbers Boiled Plenty Hard Boiled

ABILENE, April 13. (P)—Stories of the daring holdup of a westbound Greyhound bus near Weatherford, Tex., early today morning, substantiated by check-the-handcuffs as souvenirs, were told in Abilene this afternoon by 13 of the passengers as they are lunch as "guests of the house" in the state hotel.

Mrs. J. D. Ferrara, who held her tiny daughter, Ann, on her lap, occupied the front seat on the driver's side and witnessed it from the beginning. Many others of the bus were sleeping.

"Two men got on in the edge of Fort Worth and paid $1.25 for their tickets," she said. "They found seats somewhere toward the back. I was not gone very far when I looked up."

"There was a shorter man pushing a gun in the driver's side. 'Turn to the left or I'll blow your brains out,' he said, and there was nothing else for me to do."

Call for Lights.

"The light—the bus was usual as dark at night—was the next order. And then the man in the back, who had a gun, too, barked out: 'Stick to your seats!'"

All the other passengers were ordered into the back seat of the coach. They must have thought the baby would make me slow in getting back, then they went to the front and began taking our purses and everything we had.

"The two men started with the bus driver. They emptied out his gas tank and supplies and put everything they wanted in it."

"The taller man, the younger, looked scared but they both were plenty tough. 'Take a damn good look, I don't care,' they told me, 'I'm keeping the gun on you.'"

"We are on top now, but you may be some day; this is our time," they said to someone else.

Third Man Outside.

"There was a third man outside. He kept tapping the window with a machine gun."

"The two inside, talking all the time, finished up and shut the case and began tying us up. 'We are on top now, but you may be some day,' they told me, 'I'm keeping the gun on you.'"

"The younger, about 20, six feet tall, dark hair, a distinct scar on the upper left lip, running into the nose. He wore a light gray tweed suit."

"The older, about 30, five feet ten inches tall, dark, rather heavily built, wore dark suit, either blue or tan. He was 'gumming' it, apparently a man who had false

COTTON CONTROL BILL SHORN OF SENATE AMENDMENTS AFTER CONFEREES REACH AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, April 13. (P)—The Bankhead cotton bill stood shorn today of all but a few minor amendments as the result of a senate conference agreement on the measure.

Plans were under way to bring the report before the senate by Monday and call the measure up in the house shortly after the senate vote on it.

Approval is indicated at the White House should congress accept the measure in its present form.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) who will guide the conference report in the senate, said yesterday he expected approval "without difficulty." Since the legislation now stands practically as it left the house, little trouble was forecast for it there.

The purpose of the measure is to restrict this year's cotton production to 10,000,000 bales so as to improve prices of the commodity and a lower domestic surplus.

The bill came from conference yesterday, the 10,000,000 bale limit would apply for a year, with the president authorized to extend it another year with the approval of two-thirds of the cotton producers.

A 50 per cent tax would be levied on extra-quota production at the rate of 10 cents per bale.

Two men and one woman, the late driver, and a baby, were arrested later in a car on highway a few miles from the city.

Akers said some of the men had prison records but as far as he knew, they were not connected with any widely known criminal gang.

The prisoners gave their names as Guy Taylor, Jess Grover Butts, Andrew McDaniell, Frank Montgomery, Bill H. Thorne and Clifford Kell. The wife in a car said to be the wives of Thorne, Kell and Taylor. Thorne's wife had the baby.

Akers said he believed the prisoners were confidence men and "careless" about their own safety.

A federal agent joined the police in the investigation. Akers said that Thorne had been under a murder charge at the time of the robbery. He was under a Mann Act charge at El Paso, and that Butts had gone to the Arkansas penitentiary in 1926 to serve three years for accessory to robbery.

Information that Clyde Barrow was here, Akers said, "and we thought that was what we were going into when we went to the apartment house."

Thorne, Kell and the former's wife and baby were in a car at the police arrived at the apartment house. They were overtaken on the highway.

"What we want to find out now is what they were doing with all those $20 bills," Akers said. He planned to question the prisoners during the afternoon.

TWO ROUGH MATCHES AT NEW ARENA FOR TUESDAY EVENING

Promoter Chick Evans announced that the Mineral Springs arena will be the scene of the roughest wrestling card ever staged in Corsicana Tuesday evening, April 17, at 8:15 when he puts up a double bill.

Chief Black Hawk meets Marvin Villan, local villain in a two-hour time limit go, when both will be turned loose on a winner take all basis.

The second feature brings together the two men who have been the fire of all the fans as a result of his tactics with Talmer Jones a week ago, and who after being disqualified attacked the referee. Neal Hood will meet Dutch North in this encounter. The third event brings together Pat Garigan and Wildcat Nelson.

strongly opposed to the Connery compulsory thirty-hour work week bill, the Lemke-Frazier farm mortgage refinancing-inflation bill, and the McLeod proposition for the federal government to pay off depositors in closed banks.

Mr. Roosevelt indicated, they said, that he would not insist either upon the adoption of the present air mail legislation or the Wagner bill to eliminate company dominated unions. He was said also to have expressed opposition to the federal reserve bill.

Although senate chiefs of staff at a Saturday conference gathered the definite impression that some legislation would be recommended by the administration to aid silver in a limited way. Speaker Rainey said the metal was mentioned "but there was nothing definite."

There was some talk that the Dies bill to give a premium on silver sent here from abroad in exchange for surplus farm commodities might be permitted to pass the senate. It has already passed the house.

Teeth but was not wearing them.

The third man on the outside could not be described. Only one passenger saw the car. Thomas Dorman of Ridgeway, Tenn., declared it was a '34 Ford.

"The driver was then told to drive on as the men jumped in a waiting car outside and left."

Description of Bandits.

Here is the description of the "inside men" according to the agreement.

The younger, about 20, six feet tall, dark hair, a distinct scar on the upper left lip, running into the nose. He wore a light gray tweed suit.

The older, about 30, five feet ten inches tall, dark, rather heavily built, wore dark suit, either blue or tan. He was "gumming" it, apparently a man who had false the time it was sold. The senate approved a 75 per cent advance rate, but some conferees regarded the higher amount as confiscatory and likely to bring a declaration of unconstitutionality against the would fix state and county quotas measure.

The secretary of agriculture on the basis of the past five years' production. Farmers' allotments would be established by the committee operating under the voluntary plan to curtail cotton acreage.

Conferees were told yesterday by Cury Cobb, chief of the farm administration cotton section, that the agriculture department already had determined state and county quotas using a five year base.

A senate amendment was left in to make the bill inapplicable to long staple cotton, raised in the Southwest.

Another was kept to insure that any state that had produced as much as 500,000 bales in any of the years in the base period would receive an allotment of at least 200,000 bales.

Attacked by friends of the bill as threatening its effectiveness, the measure was exempt from the penalty tax six bales raised by each producer was eliminated.

MANY RELATIVES EMPLOYED IN ALL STATE DEPARTMENTS

MORE THAN TWENTY-SIX PER CENT OF ALL STATE EMPLOYEES RELATED

AUSTIN, April 13. (P)—Wide-spread employment of relatives in state departments and institutions was reported today by the legislative anti-nepotism committee in its report which was drafted but not signed by the members.

Twenty-six of the 31 members of the senate, 83.8 per cent, have relatives employed by the state, as do 68 of 150 members of the house, 45.3 per cent, the committee reported.

All heads of government departments questioned in the investigation denied there had been "trade in jobs" or "swapping" of jobs, which left the committee to make pure guess as to how this interchange came about, whether it was merely a coincidence, or whether there was an understanding.

Employees of relatives by the state were condemned as one of the most damnable practices in all our state government, and one that has grown by leaps and bounds within the last few years.

The highway department was the largest employer of relatives, with 2,006 related and 5,925 unrelated, but the average of 26 per cent was lower than the 43 per cent in the state land office, 225 related and 230 unrelated, and 31 per cent in the insurance department.

Would Dismiss Wives.

The committee strongly recommended dismissal of the wives of 25 husbands employed by the state.

The number of persons not related and related, respectively, in some of the branches of the government were: Abilene State Hospital, 68 and 14; Austin State Hospital, 144 and 132; Austin State hospital, 65 and 83; Confederate Home, Austin, 34 and 31; Confederate Women's Home, Austin, 14 and 21; negro orphan, dumb and blind school, Austin, 34 and 19; Galveston State Psychopathic Hospital, 30 and 1; Girls' Training School, Galveston, 32 and 9; State Home for Neglected and Dependent Children, Waco, 12 and 7; State Orphan Home, Corsicana, 64 and 22; San Antonio State Hospital, 208 and 142; Terrell State Hospital, 97 and 178, including 45 married couples; State Tuberculosis Hospital, San Antonio, 159 and 95; Wichita Falls State Hospital, 114 and 129; State Blind School, Austin, 54 and 25; and State Deaf School, Austin, 85 and 55.

COTTON MILLERS DEFEATED PURSLEY SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Corsicana's Cotton Millers had practically no opposition when they faced Pursley here Sunday afternoon, and when the dust of the game was blown away, the Corsicana team had won 11-1.

Harris was the winning pitcher, and struck out seven batters in that many innings. Harris, Myers and Brewett limited the Pursley bats to three hits.

The Cotton Millers nipped two Pursley tilters for 14 hits. Bonard of Corsicana and Murray, Pursley were the big bats at the plate, and the Corsicana team was signified as manager of the Tulsa Oilers during the approaching season. The announcement was made Sunday night by Art Griggs, president of the club.

Due to the uncertainty of the Dues-Herrera fight in Fort Worth this week end, the scheduled round-up of sports editors of several states in Fort Worth Friday night has been cancelled according to wire dispatches Sunday afternoon.

Jake Atz, skipper of the Fort Worth Cats during the days of their pennant-winning ways, later was named as manager of the Tulsa Oilers during the approaching season. The announcement was made Sunday night by Art Griggs, president of the club.

Man and Woman Found Slain On Oklahoma Road

LAWTON, Okla., April 13. (P)—A coroner's jury began today to investigate a double highway killing.

Howard Reynolds, who officers said was a violent character, and Mrs. Fay Hennessee were found shot to death on a road one-half mile west of Lawton last night.

In a small coupe nearby was a man named "Boyd," who was shot to death.

Three men, including Jim Hennessee, 57, estranged husband of the dead woman, were questioned. The others are A. J. "Tar" Hennessee, 60, brother of the latter, and a friend of the latter.

A fourth man was sought. Hennessee recovered consciousness and officers said he had made a verbal statement to them. They did not disclose it.

He expressed the belief the shooting may have been the outcome of a fight earlier in the evening in which the Reynolds brothers and Jim Hennessee allegedly were involved.

Hennessee, who lived in a tent near here, leaves five children—the youngest ten months old.

by the two men who approached the car and struck the driver with a pistol but they were forced to drive to an isolated spot near Prospect Lake where they vigorously assailed their captors. Although Miss Lindley and O'Brien finally were exhausted, the men were so frightened they fled, O'Brien reported.

So valiantly did Miss Lindley fight off the robbers, police said, her finger nails were found to have scraped skin from their faces. These scrapings were taken and carefully preserved.

After a search of several negro homes police announced they had arrested George Williams, "Colonel" Nichols and a man named "Boyd."

Late last night student crowds were twice dispersed from around the jail where the men were held. Police Chief Hugh D. Harper said they were "curiously seekers."

definitely to animal consumption. The commission had before it technical tests showing that wheat has as many good qualities as other grains for cattle and pig, if not more than 40 per cent of it is placed in the food mixture. It is not so good for poultry.

Delegates argued in favor of international denaturalization of low grade wheat competes with high grade wheat for human consumption, and lowers its price. Denaturalizing such wheat before export or before import would decrease the price of low grade wheat so as to make it compete more favorably with oats, barley, and maize.

The only argument advanced against denaturalization is that it might react unfavorably on the price of other cereals used for animal feeding.

SAYS LOAN MADE THROUGH THIRD PARTY; DID NOT KNOW LENDER

NEW YORK, April 13. (P)—Promissory notes for $65,000 signed by Guernsey T. Cross, lawyer, and secretary to President Roosevelt when he was governor of New York, are listed as part of the estate of Max Greenberg, known as the brain of the Waxey Gordon line.

Cross, when asked in Washington concerning the loan disclosed when the transfer tax appraisal on Greenberg's $200,000 estate was filed yesterday, said he did not know the man and had arranged the loan through a third party.

Listed as a claim against the estate of Greenberg, who was shot down in an Elizabeth, N. J., hotel April 12, 1933, was a loan for $50,000 from another New York attorney, A. M. Fr

HANDS AND NAILS

There is one thing I'd like to warn my readers about—the use of too much enamel on the finger nails. I know that there is a new and particularly red shade just out, far more glaring than the blood-red that has been popular lately. And there are several new tints in rose-red, coral red, orange-red. For a brilliant effect, the girls in the shops put on two coats. What chance then have your nails to breathe and to make use of the oils which the body supplies? The thick coats of enamel are very drying. And the effect of such very red finger tips is not really attractive.

Take all the enamel off your nails for at least one day a week. They dry before a manicure is a good time. A better time is the day after, for then the nails are so nice looking that they need no polish to set them off. In this case you have to apply the enamel yourself later, but you should be able to do this as well as the girl in the beauty shop. Indeed, you should vary the enamel to suit your costume. Natural for street wear, rose for evening or for very formal and dressy occasions, pearl, black green, perhaps the bright scarlet if your dress has scarlet on it.

You need a lot of good polish remover; you can get nice large bottles for a quarter which are as good as the more expensive kinds. Scrub the nails afterward and use a scraper to be sure all polish is off. Then oil the nails, rubbing the oil into the nails and the cuticle around them as well, either you have polish or not, oil the nails every night and press back the cuticle. This helps overcome the drying effect of the enamel. Buff the nails with a thick padded buffer—good for the circulation.

John F. H.—Excessive perspiration comes from a weakened state, and should be cared for by the doctor. It usually shows that the person is not in normal health. Temporary relief may be had by a daily bath, followed by an alcohol rub, but complete building up of the health is the main thing to be considered. When there is not much time for exercising, try stretching all parts of the body. You will be able to get in a great deal of it before arising from bed in the morning and also on retiring; and when up on your feet, raise arms far above the head, clasp hands and push upward with all your strength, lifting all

COL. G. W. HEROD BURIED GROESBECK SUNDAY AFTERNOON

AGED MAN WHO DIED FRI- DAY, FORMERLY TAX COL- LECTOR LIMESTONE

Funeral services for George Washington Herod, 80, pioneer of Limestone county and resident of Corsicana 15 years, who died at the family home, 611 South Fifteenth street Friday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock after a several weeks illness, were held from the First Methodist church in Groesbeck Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with burial in the Groesbeck cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Tom Lenox, pastor of the First Christian church, Corsicana. The Groesbeck Masonic Lodge had charge of the rites at the grave.

Col. Herod, as he was familiarly called by his close friends, resided in Groesbeck 50 years prior to moving to Corsicana, and was tax collector of Limestone county for a number of years. He was a native of Mississippi, but came to Texas with his family when 14 years of age when Bremond was the northern terminal of the Houston and Texas Central railroad now a part of the Southern Pacific Lines.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Mozelle Leslie, Corsicana; Mrs. Snoda Foster, Corsicana; and Mrs. H. P. Gilpin, Groesbeck; three sons, C. E. Herod, Corsicana; Hugh Herod, Dallas; and Guy Herod, Los Angeles two sisters, Mrs. Rhoda Watford, Corsicana, and Mrs. Jeff Clancy, Carter, Okla.; and a brother, John Herod, Thornton.

Palbearers were M. A. Pyburn, Joe Wilson, W. S. Kellum, and Albert Fullerton, all of Corsicana; Frank Walters, A. L. Thompson, A. R. Henderson and Claude Garrett, all of Groesbeck. The Corley Funeral Home directed the funeral.

UNREQUITED LOVE IS HELD CAUSE OF BEAUMONT TRAGEDY

BEAUMONT, April 16.—(P)—Unrequited love was given as the reason for C. C. Fletcher, 23, critically wounding Miss Ismay Moore, 26, and then shooting himself to death.

The double shooting occurred yesterday at her parents' farm house near Saratoga, Hardin county. Miss Moore was wounded by a pistol bullet which penetrated her body.

Hospital attendants said today Miss Moore was in no immediate danger and that hope is held for her recovery.

Officers learned that Fletcher, after shooting Miss Moore, took a shotgun off the wall and fired a shot over his heart. He staggered into the yard, pulled the cover off a well 30 feet deep and plunged in. A neighbor, Thomas Williford, pulled him out.

Before his death, the Shreveport man told officers his act was motivated by the fact that his love was not returned.

Fletcher had worked on the farm with the woman's father, Lee Moore, last year.

Former American Diplomat Died in Brazil Monday

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 16.—(P)—Edwin Vernon Morgan, 69, former United States Ambassador to Brazil, died suddenly today, at his residence in Petropolis, the Brazilian summer capital.

Morgan had served as ambassador to Brazil for 20 years but resigned with the Roosevelt administration.

He loved Brazil and returned here Feb. 20 to go into retirement.

Mr. Morgan had served his country throughout the world. He had been American consul at Dally, and Minister to Korea, Cuba, Paraguay, Uruguay and Portugal.

His home town was Auror, N. Y. His 20 years as ambassador to Brazil set a record for American diplomats.

An East African Prince Preaching At Negro Church

Rev. Prince Kaba Reba, negro preacher, is holding a meeting at Wesley Chapel, C. M. E. church, where the services will continue through Friday.

Prince Reba is the son of an African king and was born at Unyoro, British East Africa. His father still rules the East African tribe and at his death Reba says he will return to Unyoro and take over the responsibilities as ruler of his people.

Reba is a British subject, was educated in England and speaks seven languages.

Card of Thanks.
Angus, Texas.
We take this method to thank the dear friends who assisted us Friday night as our barn burned. We were asleep and these dear ones came by and waked us in time to save a few things. We trust in the Lord to help us replace these things, and only hope that you never have to suffer these losses.

MR. AND MRS. FRED CONANT.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CAPT. PARTAIN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

RESIDENT CORSICANA FOR THIRTY YEARS WAS BURIED IN WAXAHACHIE

Funeral services for Capt. A. V. Partain, 78, native Texan, who died Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock after a several weeks illness, were held from his home, 824 West Seventh avenue Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church. Burial was made in the Waxahachie cemetery.

Prior to moving to Corsicana 30 years ago, Mr. Partain was city marshal of Waxahachie for a number of years, and was known as a fearless officer. He was connected with Marnett Oil company here for a number of years.

He took an active part in politics, and ardently championed the men and issues in whom he was interested. He was well-known in Central Texas.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. D. B. Pickens, Corsicana.

Palbearers were W. P. Brown, J. R. Curington, Henry Robbins, John Smalling, R. R. Owen and E. M. Palmer.

The funeral was directed by the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home.

White's Chapel Home Demonstration Club Met on Wednesday

The White's Chapel Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, April 11th at the home of Mrs. H. M. Basham with Misses Addie Parrish, Louise Spurlock and Mrs. M. L. Spurlock as assistant hostesses. Mesdames Jack Megarity and M. L. Spurlock had charge of the opening exercises in which the club sang several songs and the aim, motto, and pledge were repeated by the members.

After a report from outstanding committees rules on the government canning equipment were read.

Mrs. W. A. Dobbin gave an interesting report of the council meeting held April 7, at the Chamber of Commerce.

It was announced by Mrs. F. P. McCuiston that the club had a special invitation to visit the Henderson Nursery at Athens sometime in June.

Reports were made on number of cotton dresses made, dresses renovated, foundation patterns cut, clothing accounts, plants, shrubs, and trees put out and the amount spent for each.

The hostesses served iced grape juice and cookies to thirty-one members and two visitors.

It was voted to change the time of meeting to 3 o'clock only on the days our agent is to be with us. The next meeting will be April 25, at the home of Mrs. V. D. Crowe. REPORTER.

Finch Club Women Held Meeting On Friday Afternoon

The Finch Home Demonstration club met in regular session Friday, April 13, at the home of Mrs. Earl Ray. After a short business session, the program committee carried out the year book program.

Another feature of the evening was the cutting of foundation patterns. Our wardrobe demonstrator, Mrs. Earl Ray, cut and fitted patterns the rest of the evening.

After adjournment, Mrs. Ray surprised and delighted us with delicious refreshments, which were greatly enjoyed by all present.

Three new members were received into the club, Mrs. Arthur Milne, Mrs. Leroy Ballew and Mrs. J. E. Beck. We extremely hope others will come in with us.

Mrs. Cora Beck will be the keeper of the club canning unit this year. She went to the chamber of commerce and drew for the unit and we all consider her very lucky as she drew one of the large size cockers.

Please remember our regular meeting days are every second and fourth Friday. The next meeting will be April 27, at the home of Mrs. Musa Tarrer.

Don't forget we are expecting and welcoming all of you. REPORTER.
